

LOST IN THE DEEP

The Bark Tamericia Wrecked Off the Sandwich Islands.

TWENTY MEN ARE DROWNED

Wrecked On a Hidden Reef the Vessel Breaks in Pieces—Eighteen of the Crew Are Saved.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—The bark Tamericia, which was wrecked on the rocks of Puna at 12:30 on the morning of February 5, cleared from San Francisco January 15 with a crew of thirty-eight. The voyage down was satisfactory, but it appears that the vessel lost her ruddering the officers thinking at the line of the wreck that they were near Keelakekana bay, almost a degree to the westward. No breakers were sighted when the vessel struck by the watch on deck, and the sudden shock threw the crew into great confusion. Only two small boats were available, and one of them when lowered floated away before it secured an occupant. Capt. Howland, the first mate, boatswain, carpenter, cook and two others entered the second boat, but the ship was rolling heavily and the boat was stove in and its occupants were washed away. Those of the crew who remained on the bark were picked off by the waves one by one until the vessel broke up. Eighteen men, including Third Officer Pardee, managed to reach shore with the aid of planks. The others were all drowned.

Cannot Join New York
ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 19.—The bill for the consolidation of New York, Brooklyn and other municipalities bordering on New York harbor seems to have been killed by Thursday's action of the assembly. A motion to strike out Kings county was carried and the friends of the bill, to prevent its being slaughtered at once, moved that it be recommitted. Even this was defeated, but the bill, on motion of one of its supporters, was laid on the table.

CHEATING IN HORSE BLANKETS

Nearly every pattern of Horse Blanket is imitated in color and style. In most cases the imitation looks just as good as the genuine, but it isn't the same, and so lacks strength, and while it sells for only a little less than the genuine it isn't worth one-half as much. The fact that Horse Blankets are copied is strong evidence that they are THE STANDARD, and every buyer should see that the H trade mark is sewed on the inside of the Blanket.
